

Checking stock

For support and questions:
support.brugle.com
support@brugle.com

Table of contents

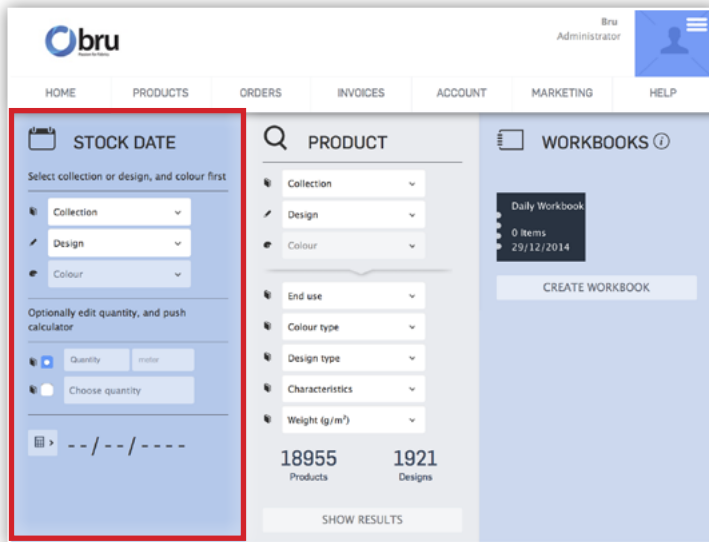

Checking stock
Checking stock	3
Checking stock availability for your product	3
Product section	4

Checking stock

Checking stock availability for your product

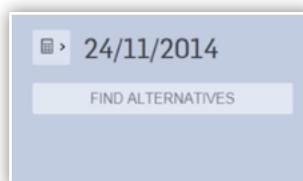

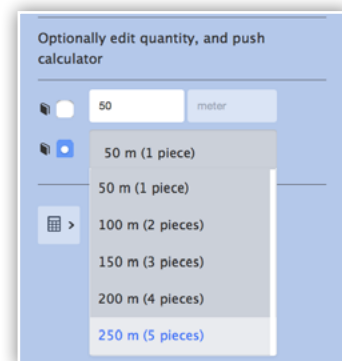

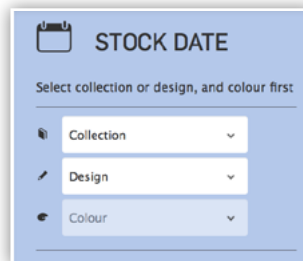

For quick access please find the shortcut to the stock date widget on your homepage.

Step Instruction

- 1 Specify your product by selecting collection and all design.
- 2 The default quantity of your unique product is shown automatically. You can overwrite the default quantity with the desired needs or use the dropdown menu with standard quantities.
- 3 Click on the calculator to get the earliest available stock date. This date indicates the date on which the product is available for transport.
- 4 We can suggest similar products with earlier available dates. Click Find alternatives, for earlier available products. Basic characteristics and your stock date request are taken into account.

Image

For support and questions:
support.brugle.com
support@brugle.com

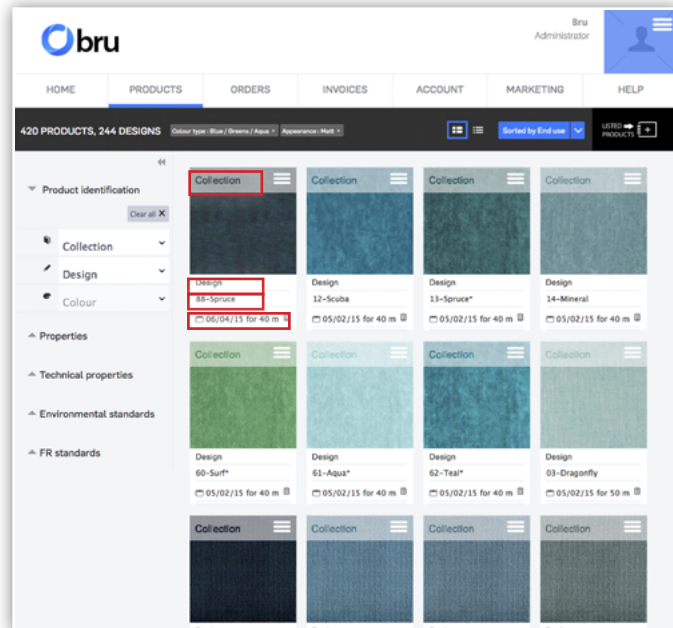

Product section

The product section is accessible via the menu and the widget on the homepage. It shows the products as thumbnails.

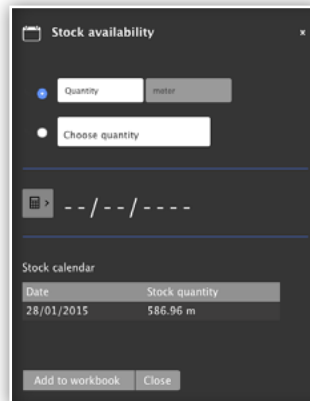

Step Instruction

- 1 Collection, design and colour name are shown on the thumbnail beneath them you will find the requested stock date.

Image

- 2 Next to the stock date information, you find the menu icon, where you find more stock details in a pop up window.

Step Instruction

- 3 Click on the thumbnail of a product for more information, you will go to the product details page of this product. Next to the pictures you can find more specifications about this product.
- 4 On the top of the page you can find the navigation trail. If you use this to go back to previous pages, with the exact same settings as you left it.
- 5 In the bottom left corner you can find the stock date widget for this product again.

Image

